And it is compared to "The Tree of Spirit" in the movie "Avatar" CNN also voted "The Ten World Dreaming Destinations"

And then go back to Tokyo.

Day 2 <from Tokyo to Hiroshima City>

Unfortunately during World War II the central part of Hiroshima City was fiercely destroyed. After the war, the city was renewed and reconstructed but the misery of the atomic bomb has been lasted in citizens' mind and soul. War victims have been suffered from the atomic disease for a long time. By the way, the nature and traditional memorials are still beautiful by the local residence.

Day 3 <from Hiroshima to Osaka City>

It is the 3rd largest city in Japan (the 1st is Tokyo, the 2nd is Yokohama Kanagawa Pref.) There stand Osaka Castle and Umeda Sky Building and other skyscrapers. Of course, there are a lot of memorial places but most of them were lost during the World War II. It's kind of fantastic and attractive City.

The first capital of Japan, established in 710 AD. Todaiji Temple was built in 728 AD. The Daibutsu-den (the Great Buddha Sculpture Hall) is the largest wooden building in the world. It is one of the seven great temples at that time. Inside the Daibutsu-den, there is the largest bronze Buddha sculpture called Rushana Buddha. In the Nara Prefectural Park, many wild deer and doe (they are considered as the messengers of God) are strolling inside and the outside of the park. And there stands one of the oldest shrines called Kasuga-Taisha (The Kasuga Grand Shrine) which has more than 1300 years history. If the flight is from Osaka, we will have a Sayonara Farewell Party on the cruising ship.

It literally means the homeland of Shirakawa. Really saying, it is famous for traditional Japanese countryside folkhouses. And more, the roof is made of kind of wild straw which is called miscanthus, shortly saying, thatched roof 'kayabuki-yane' and the roof is very steep because of heavy snow in winter. The houses are built simply wood and hemp rope without any nails. Inside the house there are several floors from 2-5 stories.

<Takayama City>

It is famous for 'Takayama-Matsuri' as Takayama Festival. There are many floats going through the main street of the city. The festivals are held twice a year, spring and autumn. The spring one is called San-ou sai on April 14-15. The autumn one is held as Hachman-sai on Oct. 9-10. The most impressive things are people and dolls wear Japanese traditional fashion such as Kimono. Very gorgeous atmosphere, with the sound of flute or traditional Japanese musical instruments are performed.

In the case of special plan, depend on the situation.

Day 7 <from Toyama to Alpine Tour>

For example, ordinary railroad, mountain climbing railways, cablecars, battery electric bus, ropeway, etc. And nearby Kurobe Dam which is the highest location electricity generating dam in the Eurasian continent. There is a high snowwall called "Yuki-no-Otani". It means the great snow valley about 15m high which corresponds to 7 storied building. It is rare case in the world except Hymarayan mountains.

This is the mountain route of transportation, cable cars, electricity bus and ropeway etc.

Day 8 <Matsumoto City>

It is famous for Matsumoto Castle known as a national treasure which was built about 400 years ago. Today the city of mountains, music and university. Every year the world music festival called Ozawa Music festival. Festival is held everywhere inside the city.

Especially from Shinshu Matsumoto Airport, we go to Sapporo Hokkaido directly and Fukuoka, Kyushu Kobe (near Osaka) also. It takes about one and half an hour to reach the destinations. So we have flexible course of Alpine Route in many ways.
